ROOSEVELT BE ASKED TO END STRIKES

SEVENTY THOUSAND WORKERS IN SEVEN STATES ARE IDLE

STEEL-WORKERS COMMITTEE APPEALS FOR PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT STRIKE

By The Associated Press.

A general labor holiday was called in Lansing, Mich., and garbage collectors and incinerator maintainers employees went on strike in Providence, R. I., today as at least 70,000 idle workers looked to presidential intervention in the widespread steel strike.

At the same time, John L. Lewis gave the approval of his committee for industrial organization to the administration's wage and hour legislation but opposed what he called "wage fixing" contrary to "American precedent and practice." He testified before a joint congressional committee in Washington. The several thousand persons marched behind the banner of the United Automobile Workers of America and blocked a square surrounding Michigan's capital building at Lansing in protest against the arrest of eight pickets. They were charged with molesting and disturbing laborers engaged in peaceful picketing.

Officials of the Olds Motor Works, Fisher Body Corporation, the Reo Motor Car Company and the Motor Wheel Corporation said their plants were closed by the strike.

Garbage service to Providence's 75,000 homes was crippled by the strike of 100 workmen, who were joined by an estimated 400 highway department workers in a "sympathetic strike."

Demonstration at Two Plants

Steel strikers massed an estimated 5,000 men for a brief demonstration at a steel plant in Indiana Harbor, Ind., plants but dispersed peacefully after parading.

Court Adjourns To Allow Farmers Complete Planting

LUBBOCK, June 7.—(P)—Judicial cognizance of an emergency facing farmers because of prolonged wet weather was taken here today when two district courts continued all cases set for the week so that farmers' jurors will not be delayed in their planting.

Judge Daniel A. Blair in 72nd court and Judge Alton B. Chapman, substituting for E. L. Pitts in 99th court, were told that farmers must do their replanting at once or face disaster.

Judge Chapman came here to preside while Judge Pitts went to Floydada for a regular term in 110th district court, to which Chapman was appointed recently. Chapman was disqualified in criminal cases, there because, as district attorney, he helped prepare the indictments.

FEDERAL BANKING AUTHORITIES SAY SOME PERSONS HOARDING MONEY'S DURING DEPRESSION

HOUSE CONSIDERING PROPOSAL TO EXTEND PUBLIC WORKS BODY

PWA IS DUE TO EXPIRE JUNE 30 UNLESS EXTENSION BILL PASSED

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—Federal banking authorities said today some persons hoarded money during the depression still are holding onto it.

They based this assertion on a treasury statement showing that money in circulation totaled $6,426,552,614 on April 30. If equally distributed this sum would provide $49.74 for every person in the country.

The total of money in circulation includes all the currency and coins in the nation, exclusive of that held in the treasury or federal reserve banks.

Circulation during the last few months has topped all previous periods except in 1919-20 when more money was needed to operate business and industry accelerated to a war-time pace.

Federal reserve board officials said recent business expansion has increased circulation but added that a substantial sum of money still rested in private hoards.

They said the total outstanding was in excess of the normal needs of business.

The government has called in gold and gold notes, but there is no prohibition against keeping other money.

Officials said currency of large denominations forms the bulk of hoarded money, and cited there has been no reduction of big bills in circulation since 1933.

Only projects already approved by PWA's examining division are eligible for loans or grants under the extension proposal.

POPULAR FILM ACTRESS DIES

JEAN HARLOW

Jean Harlow, famous platinum blonde moving picture actress, ill for only a short time, died shortly before noon in a Los Angeles hospital Monday, only a few hours after she was removed from her home to the hospital following a sudden turn for the worse Sunday night after she had been thought recovering from an attack of influenza and uremic poisoning.

Fourteen Violent Deaths In Texas During Week-End

(By The Associated Press)

Violence claimed fourteen lives in Texas over the week-end. Six died in traffic accidents, three drowned, two were stabbed to death, one succumbed to bullet wounds, one man toppled over a railroad bridge and another was struck by lightning.

Easter Lily Renfrow, 12, of Banquette, was killed when struck by an automobile in front of her home. Mitchell Ingram, 23, died when his motorcycle crashed into an automobile near Austin.

W. L. White, 32, was killed when struck by an automobile at Fort Worth. Eugene Lopal Maum, 21, of Houston, was fatally injured in an automobile crash near Galveston.

Five-year-old Raul Gomez died of injuries received near Laredo when the automobile in which he was riding struck a bridge. The steering gear of the machine was blamed. Ed Wittenburg, 23, injured in a traffic accident at Arlington Saturday, died today.

Jim Stevens, 23, drowned near Vega. Marjorie Williams and Eugenia Neider, 15-year-old Topeka.

Small Twister Hit Southwest Section of City

A small twister that approached Corsicana from the northeast dipped down in the southwestern residential section near the intersection of West Eleventh avenue and Sixteenth street and followed a course in a generally southeasterly direction past the William B. Travis school, then lifting before it reached the Magnolia refinery.

A number of trees were reported damaged and some outbuildings overturned by the force of the wind. The residence of J. E. Pickering at the corner of West Fourteenth and Eleventh streets had some window panes shattered by the blow. No injuries were reported.

Local observers said the cloud approached the town from the northeast where the clouds preceded the sharp shower were blackest near the intersection of the Roano road and East First avenue but lifted before doing any damage.

Considerable electrical display and a heavy rain accompanied the twister.

JEAN HARLOW DIED MONDAY AS RESULT UREMIC POISONING

NOTED PLATINUM BLONDE FILM ACTRESS SUCCUMBS SHORTLY BEFORE NOON

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—(P)—Jean Harlow, platinum blonde film actress, died at 11:37 this morning at the Good Samaritan hospital.

She was 26 years old.

Dr. E. C. Fishbaugh, her physician, said she never regained consciousness after lapsing into a coma this morning. She was stricken with uremic poisoning that spread to her brain. She was placed in an oxygen tent, two blood transfusions were performed, and intravenous solutions were administered in an effort to save her.

With her at the bedside was her mother, Mrs. Jean Bello, and William Powell, screen star who has been her constant companion at social events in recent months.

"Death was caused by the complications from uremic poisoning," Dr. Fishbaugh said. "Miss Harlow never rallied after the serious relapse she suffered last night. The poisoning spread to the brain, causing it to swell. Miss Harlow was unconscious for some time before death occurred."

Additional Inch Of Rain Falls In Corsicana Sector

An additional inch of rain fell Saturday and Sunday bringing the total rainfall in Corsicana 2.41 inches since the rain started Thursday. Some wind accompanied the rain Saturday night and Sunday morning and in some sections corn was blown over but not enough to materially damage it.

V. L. Perkins, farmer residing about 7 miles southeast of Dawson was killed by lightning Saturday evening during the heavy electrical display that accompanied the rain.

No other damage has been reported from the lightning or from the wind.

Small creeks were running Sunday afternoon for the first in several months, indicating that the ground was thoroughly soaked.

LIGHTNING KILLED PROMINENT DAWSON MAN ON SATURDAY

Funeral services for V. L. Perkins, well-known and prominent farmer and landowner of the Dawson community were held in Dawson Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial in the Dawson cemetery.

Mr. Perkins was instantly killed Saturday evening about 7 o'clock when he was struck by a bolt of lightning while supervising levee construction about seven miles southeast of Dawson. It was reported here several negroes were knocked down by the bolt, but were not seriously injured.

Surviving are his widow and one child, Dawson; father, Hilary Perkins, Clinton; a brother, Buck Perkins, Dawson; several sisters and other relatives.

CONGRESS EXPECTED RATIFY RENEWED INTERSTATE COMPACT FOR CONTROL OF OIL OUTPUT

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—W. J. Holloway, Oklahoma City attorney for the interstate oil compact commission, predicted today that congress would ratify "at an early date" a renewed oil compact between five states if President Roosevelt favors the compact resolution.

The compact now in existence with six states as members will expire in September unless the new agreement, authorized by legislatures of several states and acted upon at a recent compact meeting in New Orleans, is ratified by congress. States thus far agreeing to membership in the renewed compact are Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico and Colorado.

Illinois is a member of the present compact and its legislature is considering the new agreement.

Officials of the commission said they believe Louisiana also may join the compact.

"I don't think we will have any trouble at all," Holloway said. "I have heard that some of the representatives from the seaboard may not be entirely friendly toward the ratification measures but all of the oil states are for it and I do not think there is very much opposition."

Last Monday a copy of the compact was filed with the president and secretary of state. Holloway said he believed the White House would send a message on the agreement to congress early this week.

He has asked Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma to draft a resolution providing for congressional ratification of the compact.

E. O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, is the present compact chairman. The compact commission was organized two years ago

NEW COMPLICATIONS AGGRAVATE SPANISH CRISIS

New complications added to the seriousness of the crisis precipitated by the Nazi reprisal shelling of the Spanish city of Almeria after the bombing of the German battleship Deutschland when Italy threatened to stop and search Russian ships carrying supplies to Spain. Figuratively, while Mussolini watches to the north against a possible move of Soviet air strength, Dictator Stalin follows the maneuvers of Fascist warships in the Mediterranean. At the same time, France and England sought to avert any new outbreak and Germany declared herself "satisfied" Italian warships also established a virtual blockade of eastern Spain to prevent Russia landing munitions.

INSURGENTS RESUME THEIR PUSH TOWARD BILBAO ON MONDAY

GERMANY AND ITALY, BACKERS OF REBELS, TIGHTEN FRIENDSHIPS

By The Associated Press.

Spanish insurgents resumed their push toward besieged Bilbao today while Germany and Italy, the two fascist powers which have recognized the insurgent administration, tightened their bonds.

Reports reaching Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish border, said 63 insurgent planes bombed Leizama, only two miles outside Bilbao.

Eleven miles southeast of the refugee-filled city, troops of both sides were locked in a struggle for an important highway junction at Lemona.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler conferred the grand cross of the Order of the German Eagle on Italy's Premier Benito Mussolini, calling the award "a sign of my friendship in honor of his (Mussolini's) great merits and in furtherance of the hearty understanding between Italy and the German Reich."

Burglars Fail To Secure Cash Grocery Robbery

City officers were engaged over the week-end in a search for some clue to the identity of burglars who attempted to rob the safe of the Collins Cash Grocery on North Commerce street sometime Saturday night.

Chief of Police Bruce Nutt said that the building had been entered in the same manner that Golden Brothers building was entered last week. It is believed by officers that the burglars mounted to a small shed and then to the roof where they cut a hole in the metal topping, carefully avoiding a skylight, and then dropping down into the store. The knobs were knocked from the safe but the robbers failed to get into the inner compartment officers said. The intruders left the building by a rear door.

City officers arrested a negro Saturday afternoon after another negro reported that he had been held up at the point of a pistol on South Main street. Officers said the accused man was identified by several witnesses. He was transferred to county authorities.

JOHN L. LEWIS TO BACK WAGE AND HOUR LEGISLATION PLAN

CIO LEADER, HOWEVER, OPPOSED TO WAGE-FIXING FEATURE OF BILL

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—John L. Lewis threw the general support of his Committee for Industrial Organization behind the Administration's wage and hour legislation today. He opposed, however, what he called "wage fixing" contrary to "American precedent and practice."

He made it clear that what he principally objected to was any government control, or regulation of wages above bare minimum pay rates. Illustrating, he said he would not want the government to attempt to decrease any "fair wage" in the mining industry and possibly order a reduction.

LONGEST TOTAL SUN ECLIPSE IN TWELVE CENTURIES WILL BE RECORDED ON MID-PACIFIC SPOT

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—Naval observers and national geographic society astronomers stood vigil today over delicate instruments installed on a tiny island in the mid-Pacific for tomorrow's total eclipse of the sun, the longest in 12 centuries.

From barren, hitherto uninhabited Canton Island, one of the few dots of land in the path of the complete shadow, came wireless reports that the scientists expected visibility at the moment the moon obscures the sun at 2:00 p. m., eastern standard time.

The completing its three weeks' installation work yesterday, was ready to photograph and study the eclipse for 215 seconds in an effort to solve the mysteries of the sun's strange outer light fringe, the corona.

A partial phase of the eclipse, the National Geographic Society announced, will be visible southwest of a line drawn from Eureka, in northern California, through Amarillo, Texas, Shreveport, La., Biloxi, Miss., and on to Tampa, Palm Beach, Fla.

It will first be visible in California about noon, eastern standard time, in Texas between 2:30 and 3:15 p. m., eastern standard time, and in Florida about 5 p. m., eastern standard time.

BOOKMAKING, DOG TRACK BETTING, ETC. MAY BE OUTLAWED

GOVERNOR ALLRED OPENS UP GAMBLING MATTER IN MESSAGE MONDAY

AUSTIN, June 7.—(P)—The legislature launched a drive today against dog track betting, horse race bookmaking and other forms of gambling. It was a sequel to action last week outlawing betting at horse race tracks.

A dozen bills were introduced in the two branches. In addition to those aimed at the dog tracks and the bookmakers, one would prohibit theater bank nights and other drawings for prizes and another was intended to provide laws with teeth against all forms of gambling.

Still other proposals would provide for disposal of jacks and stillions purchased and distributed with part of revenue from horse track bets. They called for transfer of the animals to the various county commissioners' courts with each of the 254 counties offered at least one of the 250 jacks and stillions.

The senate criminal jurisprudence committee called a meeting later in the day to consider bills offered in the upper chamber.

GOVERNOR ALLRED OPENED GAMBLING SUBJECT TO SOLONS

MORE EFFECTIVE LAWS AGAINST BOOKMAKING AND OTHER FORMS CHANCE

AUSTIN, June 7.—(P)—Governor James V. Allred opened the entire subject of gambling in his message today to the special session of the legislature.

He urged more effective statutes against bookmaking and slot and marble machines and that dog track betting be prohibited.

"I congratulate the legislature," the governor said, "upon the passage of the bill repealing the so-called pari-mutuel betting law and outlaws a few tracks have opened up here and there, however. Unquestionably this form of gambling is just as much to be condemned as the one outlawed last week by the legislature. It has been stated repeatedly that most wagering on horse races is through so-called bookie shops. This probably is true, and in various messages to the legislature I have heretofore urged passage of an effective bookie statute."

10-Year Old Boy Is Missing From Home in Houston

Information concerning his ten year old son missing from home since May 28 was sought in Corsicana Monday by R. L. Mayes, Southern Pacific employee from Houston.

The father reported that the boy failed to attend school on that date and that traces of him had been found in this section; he was believed to be accompanying an older boy on the runaway escapade.

The missing boy is described as four feet tall, weight 65 pounds, light brown or dark blond hair, grey eyes. When he left home he was attired in brown shorts and a light colored shirt, and was bareheaded and barefooted. His name is R. L. Mayes, Jr., but is called Bobby.

Information concerning this description is asked to call police headquarters or the Daily Sun office.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—The senate judiciary committee approved today legislation to punish persons who steal cattle, hogs, sheep, horses and mules moving in interstate commerce.

TENSION IN CHURCH AND STATE ROW IN GERMANY GREATER

BOTH CATHOLICS AND PROTESTANTS IN OPEN OPPOSITION TO NAZI RULES

BERLIN, June 7.—(P)—Tension in the church-state controversy increased throughout all corners of the reich today after protestant confessional leaders unleashed a new blast of censure against the nazis attitudes toward the church.

The religious dissension flared anew Sunday as both Catholics and protestants joined in open opposition to the nazis attitudes toward the church.

Street demonstrations led to fist fights in Munich where 10 more priests were thrown into prison. Martin Muench, presiding pastor of the confessional synod, in a scorching sermon decried attempts to discredit the Christian concept of repentance and to substitute for it a heroic attitude.

INTERESTING FACTS FROM VARIOUS CLUB WOMEN OF COUNTY

Balanced meals will not be such a problem in 1937 for Mrs. J. R. Bowden, poultry demonstrator of the Tupelo Home Demonstration Club, because she has made a canning budget for her family which provides for each member of her family. Thirty containers of green, leafy and yellow vegetables; sixteen containers of other vegetables; twenty-seven containers of tomatoes or citrus fruit; thirty containers of other fruits; fourteen containers of meats; twenty-four containers of preserves, jams and jelly and eleven containers of miscellaneous. With the help of the members of the family and a summer and fall garden, Mrs. Bowden can easily feed her family adequately.

"We like tomatoes," said Mrs. C. C. Frost of the Mt. Nebo Home Demonstration Club. The members of the club believed her when she went on about the plants so she could provide one-half cup of citrus fruit for each member of her family during the year. Mrs. Frost plans to supplement this through the year with oranges and grape fruit.

At the present time, Mrs. Frost is watching for signs of the potato fruit worm. She plans to have the plants sprayed at the first appearance of this pest with two pounds of arsenate of lead to fifty gallons of water. Another method is dusting with one part of lead arsenate to three parts of hydrated lime. Two applications of this poison should be given at seven-day intervals.

"I expect my poultry to pay me one dollar and fifty cents net profit per hen this year," said Mrs. W. H. Scott, poultry demonstrator of the Stansel Home Demonstration Club, to the group of club women.

In order to do this, Mrs. Scott with the help of her son, has provided housing facilities two and one-half to three square feet of floor space per bird with adequate range, as recommended by the poultry specialist of the extension service. To keep down disease and to provide range, Mrs. Scott has provided one acre divided so the older birds have one section and the young ones another. She plans to add another acre in order to have green feed for her chickens the year around.

Large Fig Shown By Local Grower

L. C. (Jake) Cook, exhibited a huge fig at the Daily Sun office Monday morning that measured eight inches in circumference one way, and ten inches the other. He stated that it was one of the largest ever produced on his trees at his residence at 1520 Woodlawn; he also reported other trees were heavily loaded with good figs but none to compare with the specimen shown.

SOME FREE INSTRUCTIONS TO AMERICAN TOURISTS ON SIGN LANGUAGE PRACTICED MEXICO

MONTERREY, Mexico, June 7.—(AP)—Belsario Quirez, manager of the Mexican Automobile Association of Laredo, offers to give a little free instruction to American tourists whose Spanish is limited to "adios," headquarters of the organization here announced. Lessons will be in signs, not words—Mexicans being highly qualified in gestures.

"Although one may find some body in almost every store, hotel and gasoline station in Mexico who speaks English," Quirez said, "the tourist who wishes to be able to make himself understood need only master a few standard Mexican gestures." Here are a few he suggests tourists paste in their hats:

Food: Press the tips of the right hand together into a point then, holding them not far from the mouth, make a few short, sharp gestures toward the opening in the face. This means "let's eat," or "where do I eat?"

(The Mexican Indian rubs his diaphragm and the army bawls "chow" for equivalents.)

Drink: This should be easy for any elbow-bender. The rule requires bailing the fingers of the right then frightening the thumb and little finger. Next jerk the thumb toward the mouth with an upward movement of the elbow "and anywhere in Mexico," Quirez said, "it will be immediately understood" that the jerked wants a drink.

(In the United States the sign reads the same way.)

Money: With the palm of the right hand held upward from a circle with the index finger and thumb. The circle meaning or peso or dollar. Weigh the imaginary peso with little movements of the hand and appropriate facial expressions to indicate "too much," or "how much."

(The teacher did not reveal whether the "too much" attitude should be accompanied by a snort, but he realized, perhaps, touring Americans pay the asking price.)

To express annoyance: Shake the right hand with fingers loose as if shaking off water, suitable facial contortions.

(He did not indicate the contortion expressing "annoyance" with a garlic eater. This may require a special lesson.)

Express thanks or approval: With the palm of the right hand toward the body and fingers extended, touch the forehead three times, waving the hand straight outward after each touch, howling slightly meanwhile. The gestures should be rapid.

("Slings, fella!" will continue popular.)

Call a waiter: Clap the hands sharply once, or say "p-a-s-a-t." ("Hey, half-portion" from the peasants, and "waitah" from the classes will not lose caste, regardless.)

"With these as a starter," Quirez said, "you'll be able to get almost anything you need in Mexico, and you'll soon learn others. Then, with one or two Spanish words, you'll be thoroughly equipped."

FIRST SERVICES BY REV. C. R. HADEN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

The Rev. C. R. Haden, Jr., new rector of St. John's Episcopal church, began his duties with the parish Sunday, with a talk before the church school assembly at 9:45 a. m., and celebrating the Holy Communion and delivering a sermon at the 11 o'clock hour. A good congregation considering the weather conditions, greeted him in his first appearance on the pulpit of St. John's.

He gave an interesting illustrated talk to the church school and prior to his sermon, which stressed the worth and need of knowing the Word of God in order to enjoy the Christian religion to its fullest extent, he gave an informal talk to the congregation in which he asked their co-operation in making of St. John's the church and the influence for good that it should be.

Rev. Mr. Haden and Mrs. Haden are now comfortably located in the parish rectory and will be glad to have members of St. John's and others to call on them at any time. They are young people themselves and are especially interested in the young people's work of the church and community.

Corsicana Children Given Opportunity For Musical Test

Children from the fifth to the eighth grades, inclusive, are invited by Joel C. Trimble, Corsicana band director, to take the "progressive" or musical aptitude test to be given at the Junior High School auditorium Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The test will be given by Walton James of Abilene who has been engaged for several months in giving the examinations in all parts of the state. Recently more than 2600 children took the test in Corpus Christi. Mr. Trimble reported.

FORMER RESIDENT OF KERENS BURIED AT MILES, TEXAS

KERENS, June 7.—(Spl.)—Funeral services for W. R. Albritton, 73, former Kerens resident, who died at Brownwood June 2, were held at the First Methodist church of Miles Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Albritton was widely known in this community, having made his home in Kerens for a long time where he was connected with the Harvey and Albritton dry goods store and in later years was a member of the Carroll Albritton-Queen hardware store. Some four years ago he moved to San Angelo where he again engaged in the hardware business until a short time ago when ill health caused him to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Wilson Fleider, also of Brownwood; a son, M. R. Albritton of Kerens; three sisters, Mrs. J. H. Carroll of Kerens, Mrs. Turner Garner of Chaffield, and Mrs. Temp. De Armon of Mangum, Okla.; three brothers, Bob Albritton of Miles, Charlie and Mac Albritton of Waco.

Relatives from Kerens, who attended the funeral were: M. R. Albritton and sons, Gayle and Reed, Mrs. John Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Carroll and Russell Carroll.

New Oil Test In Bazette Section Be Spudded Soon

KERENS, June 7.—(Spl.)—Derick limbers and machinery are being moved to a location on the McDowell tract in the Jordan survey in the Bazette section. The location is about one-half mile west of the Bazette community and is being drilled by Sharp and others.

The test is now being rigged up for a Woodbine test and if production is not secured at that level heavier machinery will be rigged and the test continued on to the Trinity sand.

Much activity in this section has taken place within the past ten years and it is expected that it will be watched closely by the oil fraternity.

Named Delegate To State Convention

TWO TEXAS COLONELS VISITORS IN WASHINGTON DURING WEEK; BALL FINDS THINGS DIFFERENT

By L. T. EASLEY, Associated Press Texas Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—Two Texas colonels were visitors in Washington during the week. Colonel Thomas H. Ball of Houston, a member of congress from 1896 to 1904 and once an unsuccessful candidate for governor against Jim Ferguson, called on all members of the Texas delegation.

"I'm just up here looking over the place to see how things are going," he said. "They are a little different than when I was a member. Incidentally, my district then comprised nine counties, including Harris. Now Houston's population is so great the county has a representative to itself. My headquarters then were in Huntsville."

Col. H. B. Moore of Texas City was here to attend the twentieth annual meeting of the Baltic Society, organized by the 61 original A. E. F. officers as they sailed into the Atlantic during the world war aboard the British ship Baltic. Moore organized the transport service overseas.

Most colorful visitors were two Oklahoma Indians, Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt, who attended a Baptist convention in Philadelphia and came here to see the capitol. They called upon Rep. W. D. McFarlane of Graham, because it was near that town Mrs. Hunt's mother, a white woman, was kidnapped in a case almost identical with that of Cynthia Ann Parker.

Mrs. Hunt's father was a full blooded Indian, as is her husband. Both wore brilliant Indian garb and attracted much attention strolling through capitol corridors.

Gabriel Harman of Waco, employed by the national resources commission, was chosen as one of the government's representatives at a national planning conference in Detroit, Mich., June 1.

Mrs. J. S. Hilliard and daughter, Betty Ann, of Littlefield were guests of Rep. George Mahon of Colorado, Texas.

WPA "white collar" workers were given a boost in congress by Rep. Maury Haverle when he reviewed a recently published book, "Washington, City and Capital."

"I shall review the book because of its importance as a part of the federal writers' project and as an event in American literature," Maverick said. "I admit the ideas I am presenting horrifies some persons for there are those who believe the WPA should be confined to hard, dirty work; that anything clean, cultured or thoughtful is a sin. The guide book—it contains 400,000 words and 130 photographs and maps—is by that token a sin, because it is a clean, cultured, thoughtful work."

MRS. BELLE FRANKEL DIED IN DALLAS; BE BURIED IN HOUSTON

DALLAS, June 7.—Mrs. Belle Frankel, aged 62 years, of Tyler, former resident of Corsicana, died here Sunday. The body was forwarded Sunday to Houston for burial.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Alfred Goldman, Tyler; two sisters, Mrs. Mamie Cerf and Mrs. Sarah Reisman, both of Ennis; and two brothers, Ame Ehwarts, Chicago, and Ben Shwartz, Los Angeles.

Large Attendance On Annual Barbecue Saturday Evening

Between 700 and 800 men from all parts of Texas with a sprinkling from other states attended the annual "barbecue" given by J. N. Edens and Fred M. Allison at the Allison Ranch Saturday night.

Hundreds of pounds of beef, pork, mutton and goat had been cooked to perfection for the guests, and all the essential trimmings provided in abundance. Even a hard shower could not dampen the enthusiasm of the guests of the evening and only slightly curtailed the attendance for the occasion.

CONGRESS LEADERS AND PRESIDENT ARE AGREED ON PROGRAM

SEVEN-POINT PREFERENTIAL LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM BEEN OUTLINED

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(P)—House democratic leaders agreed with President Roosevelt today on a seven-point preferential legislative program for action this session, headed by the judicial and executive reorganization proposals.

Other measures which Representative Rayburn of Texas, majority leader, said would be pushed for final disposition before adjournment were:

Extension of nuisance taxes and prevention of tax dodging, farm tenancy aid, low-cost housing, wages and housing legislation, and conservation planning and power authorities.

With Rayburn at a White House conference were Speaker Bankhead and Representative Vinsin (D-Ky.), a member of the ways and means committee.

Rayburn said the court bill was discussed in a general fashion. He added that it had not been decided when the measure would be taken up in the house.

Members Want Adjourn. Rayburn said much business remained to be transacted and that members wanted to adjourn at the earliest possible moment after the "outstanding" part of the administration program is disposed of.

Rayburn predicted the house would pass Thursday the bill to extend about $500,000,000 of so-called nuisance taxes.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(P)—Deadlocks on several major legislative issues are beginning to break, leaders said today following hints of compromise on the Roosevelt court bill.

"That bill is the key to the situation," said a source in the White House, "and the administration (D-Ne) surveying the problems facing congress at the start of its sixth month.

Although the outcome of the court battle was uncertain by many legislators, they noted that disagreements over the proposed tax inquiry, farm tenancy aid, and the relief funds gradually were being smoothed out.

Some issues—such as Government reorganization and regional planning—remained highly controversial. Consequently, few members expected adjournment before late August.

The principal bills and the status of each in brief:

Voted—The bill to extend about $500,000,000 for the year beginning July 1, removing "ear-marking" provisions after President Roosevelt made concessions to farm tenancy aid, farm tenancy aid, and farm tenancy aid.

The principal bills and the status of each in brief:

Voted—The bill to extend about $500,000,000 for the year beginning July 1, removing "ear-marking" provisions after President Roosevelt made concessions to farm tenancy aid, farm tenancy aid, and farm tenancy aid.

Wages and Hours—Hearings are being held on the bill to request to establish minimum and maximum standards and to ban child labor in interstate industries. Some advisers of the President said the bill would be passed by the end of the session.

Government Reorganization—A senate committee may recommend an all-inclusive bill almost at any time. The house is drafting several bills instead. Determined opposition is predicted, especially to a proposal to curtail the comptroller-general's power.

Two names arrested by Deputy Sheriff J. M. Westbrook on charges by Judge W. T. McFadden. One was fined by Judge McFadden on a charge of drunkenness.

Farm—The farm surplus control and price stabilization bill faces opposition which may result in defeat unless anti-tenant farmers are scheduled for consideration first, authorizing expenditure of $10,000,000 in coming year.

Housing—The Wagner proposal for an extensive slum clearance program is on the administration "desirable" list.

Flood control and Power—Appropriations authorized for flood control projects have been passed. The President recommended that projects hereafter be executed on the basis of regional plans embracing conservation, irrigation, power development. Action appears likely to go over until 1938.

Want Wages Raised In Gradual Manner

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(P)—A manufacturer urged congress today to raise the level of wages in industry by gradual steps instead of fixing a flat minimum wage.

Speaking at a joint labor committee hearing on the Black-Connery wage and hour bill, R. C. Kuldell, president and general manager of a Houston, Texas, oil and equipment company, opposed the administration's plan for federal control of wages and hours.

He urged, however, that the proposed labor standards board approve the wage and hour bill, and that it be made effective on a percentage basis at six month intervals.

"Wage increases made effective periodically and constantly would disrupt management and business and would benefit employees," he said.

Kuldell expressed the opinion of the principal causes for low wages was "poor management" and "failure to adopt modern and efficient equipment." Such equipment, he contended, would enable the worker to produce and earn more.

Kuldell named Howard Hughes, Hollywood movie producer, and aviator as the sole stockholder of his company, the Hughes Tool Company. He said it had established a 40-hour week and an average hourly wage of 75 cents for its 4,000 employees.

Would Eliminate Gas and Oil Tax

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(P)—Representative Wesley Disney of Tulsa, Okla., said today the leadership of the house ways and means committee has agreed "nuisance" taxes on gasoline and lubricating oils will be eliminated when a new tax bill is proposed.

Courthouse News

District Court. Orders were entered in three cases, the State of Texas vs. M. A. Johnson, Jack Moore and Tippy Sheets, Saturday morning by District Judge Wayne R. Hoel, granting application filed by Leo G. Miller, criminal district attorney, condemning six slot machines and ordering their destruction by Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse. The case can appeal the orders to the court of civil appeals. No contest was made against the orders Saturday morning. The sheriff is to destroy the machines not less than fifteen nor more than 30 days from Saturday.

In the orders granted, it was recited that the findings were that the machines were gambling devices and operated within Navarro county in violation of the laws of Texas, and "thereby condemned, and the sheriff is to destroy the machines not less than fifteen nor more than 30 days from Saturday."

Several murder trials are scheduled to be called Monday morning.

Two slot machines were seized late Friday afternoon near Rice by Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse who brought them to the jail where they were stored. The sheriff is slated to make a report of the seizure to Cleo G. Miller, criminal district attorney, during the week-end and change will be made Saturday morning that the cases would be presented before the grand jury.

A woman arrested Friday night by a deputy U. S. marshal here and was taken to Dallas to answer a federal charge in connection with the alleged violation of the prohibition laws.

One suspect has been arrested and placed in jail in connection with the burglarizing of the Eureka post office and the store of L. B. Easton Tuesday night. No formal charges have been filed. The case is being investigated by postal inspectors and county officers.

Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse went to Tyler Saturday morning on official business.

County Clerk's Office. The following cases were filed: E. C. Keel, beer application. Central Texas Grocery Co., a corporation, vs. C. A. Spencer, suit on account. Jerry M. Keel, beer application.

County Court. Several civil cases were dismissed Saturday morning on orders entered on the docket by Paul H. Miller, county judge.

ROCKEFELLER WILLS ENTIRE ESTATE TO HIS GRANDDAUGHTER

EXPLAINS THAT OTHER GRANDCHILDREN HAD BEEN PROVIDED FOR IN LIFE

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 5.—(P)—John D. Rockefeller's will, disposing of an estate estimated to be worth $25,000,000 was filed today in Surrogate's court, Westchester county, The will was dated June 2, 1925, and appended to it were three codicils.

These were dated May 14, 1929, November 4, 1932, and October 3, 1934 and the last made a radical change in the disposition of the estate.

Under the original will the capitalist and philanthropist who died May 23 at his Ormond, Fla., home, after disposing of his personal and household effects, left the residuary estate in equal shares to his four children.

The first two codicils made no special changes in the will. But the final codicil, however, the residuary estate is left to trustees during the life of Rockefeller's granddaughter, Mrs. Margaret Strong De Cuevas.

Twelve Officials Of Townsend Club Have Resigned

CHICAGO, June 5.—(P)—Twelve officials of the Townsend organization resigned today because of "repeated public utterances attacking the President and his administration" which they attributed to Dr. Francis E. Townsend, head of the old age pension movement.

The officials, who criticized Dr. Townsend's attacks "on legislation not associated with aims of the organization" in a formal statement, were:

Gilmour Young, national secretary-treasurer; Gilmar Beeler, director of the Townsend Club department; Jeanne E. Sweeney, editor of the Townsend Weekly; William J. W. Brinton, vice-president and general manager; T. W. Hughes, manager of the educational department; Walter D. Hickman, associate editor of the Townsend Weekly; Willis Owen, Townsend plan business analyst, and P. M. McEvoy, Washington correspondent.

The mass resignation, Brinton said, was addressed to Dr. Townsend and effective today. He said the resignations had been accepted "verbally."

A statement, released by Brinton, said: "We feel that our services are of no value to those who contribute to our salaries in view of our repeated public utterances in the press and on the platform attacking the President and his administration, whose support and good will we must have if we are to secure the enactment of the general welfare act during the next four years x x x."

LEGAL BETTING ON HORSE RACES NEARS ITS END IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, June 5.—(P)—Legal betting on horse races in Texas headed today toward the end, probably in September, after a four-year tenure.

Lacking only the signatures of presiding officers of the legislature and of Governor James V. Allred, a repeal bill killing the certificate system of wagering had the approval of the legislature.

Ninety-four red lights, signifying "aye" votes, outshined 13 blue or negative ones on the house voting machine yesterday to ring down the curtain on race track gambling. The senate had previously passed the same measure.

Both branches had adjourned until Monday.

The house action climaxed a long controversy over the issue which began three years ago when Governor Allred, who called the lawmakers into extraordinary session for the express purpose of repealing the wagering statute, likely will sign the measure Monday after presiding officers have affixed their names.

Because the bill did not receive a two-thirds majority vote in the upper branch it can not become effective until 90 days after the special session ends, or until sometime in September.

Before the legislators go home, however, they will consider other anti-gambling recommendations by Governor Allred. He planned to submit the subjects of tightening prohibitions against book-making, dog racing and other forms of gambling.

Also here remained for disposal 258 state owned jacks and stations purchased by the state's revenue from race track operations and used to improve the breed of Texas stock.

To Vote Appropriation. AUSTIN, June 5.—(P)—Governor James V. Allred will veto a $2,600,000 annual appropriation for the next biennium for the State Racing Commission.

The chief executive said today he "has no reason" why the commission should continue to operate after Aug. 31, end of the current fiscal year.

Legalized race wagering will come to an end sometime in September or 90 days after termination of the present extraordinary session of the legislature which repealed race track gambling.

DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR BEGIN CASTLE HONEYMOON

NOETSCH, Australia, June 5.—(P)—The Duchess of Windsor put on a simple figured house dress and toured the "haunted" rooms of Wasserburg castle today with a happy eye.

The Duke and Duchess, late in arriving last night, were late in getting up. Then, late in the morning, the Duke and Duchess, late in arriving last night, were late in getting up. Then, late in the morning, the Duke and Duchess, late in arriving last night, were late in getting up.

Walls and Edward paid no regard to the castle's grim ghosts—the tales of a 16th century "Lady Bluebeard's" six husbands and a prowling wolf that spread fear among the country folk.

The Duke, who excitedly neglected to kiss the bride when they were married Thursday at Chateau de Candie in France, fulfilled with neat dispatch another honeymoon custom when he kissed her grace today.

What is to be their home for at least three months.

He held her slim form without stumbling while, according to the Duke's own words, the custom, meant their married life would be happy.

For Wasserburg's reputation as a haunted castle, Edward had a laugh. Within the walls hang paintings of six men who, the story says, died suspiciously soon after marrying Wasserburg's one-time mistress, one of the grounds, lie their bones.

The Duke and Duchess reached Schloss Wasserburg, June 5, 10 minutes after midnight, and after a 24-hour railroad journey from France.

Almost Inch And Half Rain Falls Over Corsicana

STEEL STRIKE

The total rainfall for this section Thursday and Friday was 1.41 inches, 27 of an inch fell Friday morning after the gauge reading at 7 o'clock. Approximately the same amount fell over the county according to reports received from various sections.

The rain fell so slowly that the earth absorbed all of the moisture, making the rain equal to two inches or more of hard rain, part of which would have run off.

(Continued From Page One) From Republic Steel corporation's plant there appeared imminent. James L. Hyland, company district manager, was said to be "in conference" on the order, which was to become effective at 12:30 p.m. central standard time.

Managers of 20 large downtown office buildings in St. Louis were presented demands for union recognition and adjustment of working hours and wages by the Building Service Workers Union, a C. I. O. affiliate.

Seven hundred workers were said to be held back by the demands, which included a 40 hour five day week and minimum monthly wages of $80 for men and $60 for women.

Send Telegram to President. In a telegram to President Roosevelt, the grievance committee of the steel workers organization, led by John L. Lewis, CIO affiliate, asked for a peaceful settlement of the strike at the Republic Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company.

By having joint wage agreements written and signed by the steel corporation and the SWOC. At Richmond, Calif., striking CIO members voted 5 to 1 to accept a proposal of their leaders to end the 12-day tieup at the Ford Motor Company assembly plant.

Frank Slaby, union president, said it had won "recognition in fact," but at Detroit Harry Bennett, personnel director of the Ford Company, asserted "nobody has any authority to recognize the United Automobile Workers as sole collective bargaining agency for the Richmond plant."

Meanwhile, the UAW drafted a new labor contract with the General Motors Corporation. Details were not announced.

Says Will Organize Ford Plants. William Rounseville, one of union officials who were beaten and ejected from the main Ford plant May 28, told a mass meeting at Flint yesterday that he was going to organize Ford's plants no matter how many beatings he had to take.

In Chicago, a showdown was set for Monday between Kelly's order for evacuation of approximately 1,000 workers from the strike-bound plant of the Republic Steel Corporation. The mayor said that by holding the workers in the plant the company was violating city building codes and health regulations.

Bodies Not Visible. No trace of bodies was visible, said the plane-finders, who hope to claim a $1,000 reward offered by the Airline, Western Air Express.

The finders were Rex Moyle, Emory Andrews and Melvin Devey, farmers, and Reed Carter, 13, civilian conservation corps enrollee.

Stunned by the extent of the plane's demolition—it literally had shattered into fragments—Western Air authorities set about to determine the cause of its removal from the mountain.

Some sort of a massive derelict, they said, may be required to haul the bodies and fuselage up the terrifically sheer cliff, which is perpendicular for from 80 to 100 feet and almost sheer for 200 feet more.

Struck Near Mountain Top. Parts of the instrument panel were found, but there was small hope enough of the instruments could be assembled to reconstruct the accident or determine its cause.

SNIPING AT EDWARD

It is remarkable how the little group of English statesmen who represent the "governing class" seem to fear the Duke of Windsor.

In his renunciation and exile he seems harmless to most outsiders. He has kept his word like a gentleman, removing himself from Eng-land and from English af-fairs, and apparently ask-ing nothing more than peace, freedom and enough money to live approximat-ely in the state to which he has been accustomed. His own family, while rather shell-shocked by his choice, seemed inclined to treat him handsomely enough. But the Baldwin government has continued the feud and shown no mercy, appar-ently determined to discredit Edward thoroughly with the British people. To this end, it has interfered even with normal family ties.

A dispatch from France the other day told of King George VI himself calling Edward by telephone at Monts, and telling him re-gretfully that the King was obliged to forbid not only the attendance of any mem-ber of the royal family at the wedding, but the at-tendance of any British of-ficial guests whatever. That left the former King vir-tually without an English friend at his wedding.

It looks to neutral Amer-icans like pretty small po-tatoes—not for the harassed King, who cannot help him-self, but for the great Brit-ish government.

THE TRADING NATIONS

Representatives of Bel-gium, Denmark, Finland, Luxembourg, Norway, Swe-den and the Netherlands have been meeting at The Hague to complete their task of clearing the way for freer commerce among them. This group of nations has been carrying on a se-ries of conferences at which delegates discuss mutual trade problems and pos-sibilities for increased co-op-eration for the benefit of all of them.

The period of prelimi-nary discussions seems to have been fruitful. It is ex-pected that the delegates will now draw up a treaty ending the tariff walls for-merly raised against each other and opening the way for increased trade. Other nations may join the group if they wish to further eco-nomic co-operation.

If other small nations learn from the Scandina-vian example and get to-gether to promote interna-tional trade, they may ac-complish more than the restoration of their own prosperity. They will create a constructive and friendly atmosphere in which ex-treme nationalism and mili-tary rivalry will lose their exaggerated importance and their peril.

BALDWIN'S APOLOGIA.

People who have been a little puzzled by the num-erous "farewells" of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin forget that this is a com-plete, voluntary and perma-nent retirement. He has not been voted out of office because of lack of popular and parliamentary support, but is stepping out because he feels that he has done his stint for his country.

A volume of his speeches, entitled "Service of Our Lives," was published in the last week of his premiership. It contains some of the farewells—the last speech to Commons, and others. This book may re-veal something more of the man, but we doubt whether it will be a best seller un-

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

WEALTH.
There is a wealth of silver, of copper, steel and gold. A wealth of land for tillage but these alone are cold. And man may own such treasures ten times beyond his need. But lacking other riches he'll still be poor indeed.

For there's the wealth of spirit; the wealth of heart and mind; the wealth of great good nature exalting all mankind. And who seeks only treasures his grasping hands can clutch. To fill his purse and pocket must rob himself of much.

Oh, there's the wealth of beauty, of field and stream and sky. Of hours that bring no profit save charm to ear and eye. And there's the wealth of friend-ship that makes a life com-plete! Who merely fills his pockets lives just to drink and eat.

PENSION MONEY

"Where does the money come from that is paid out in pensions?" asks a reader. "Is any of the money that is paid annually on our property, farm taxes for in-stance, used for pensions?" "I am not opposed to pen-sions, for it seems to me that a pension helps others in a community as well as the ones who receive it. But there are some who are very much opposed to any-one receiving a pension, and say: 'Oh, yes, they will take all they can get.' Or they will say: 'A pension helps no one except the per-son to whom it is paid. I pay out money in taxes, to help give you a pension; you use that money to buy some-thing from me; I pay it out again in taxes just to give you another pension.'"

It is a large and complex question, the answer to which should really be given by an economist, and which might fill a book. But in a bird's-eye view it looks somewhat like this:

The money which goes for public pensions, directly or indirectly, is paid by everybody who has prop-erty or income. The burden seems to fall most heavily on those who have most; but reckoned in percentage of the taxpayers' means, it probably falls more heav-ily on the poor than on the rich.

Some of the taxes are vis-ible, like income taxes and sales taxes and the new so-cial security taxes and real estate taxes. Others are in-visible, the best example be-ing taxes paid on imports, which are passed along in price-raises to consumers. Taxes on manufacturers are visible to the corporations and invisible to those who buy their products.

Thus streams of money come in many ways, pour-ing into pensioners' pockets from federal and state and local governments.

These pensions, of course, are not a mere dead weight of expense on the contribu-tors. They do keep money circulating. They provide purchasing power for those who have none, and much of it flows back into the pockets of the taxpayers themselves.

Still it amounts on the whole to a big section of the community supporting a minority section. This has always been done in some form or degree, since men arose above the savagery of the wolf pack. Even primi-tive tribes have usually shared what they had.

The only fair question is whether the beneficiaries of public pension systems really need such aid, or de-serve it—whether they couldn't really take care of themselves, in whole or part. Or whether private, voluntary systems are not better than public systems requiring public taxes.

Today we have both. Private insurance companies handle an immense volume of what might be called pensions, paid in around-about way by the benefi-ciaries to themselves, in en-dowment and old age poli-cies.

MacDONALD'S RETIRE-MENT

Ramsey MacDonald, Brit-ish labor leader and Prime Minister of England in 1924 and again from 1929 to 1931, is retiring from pub-lic life now. Like Stanley Baldwin, he had a chance at a title and a permanent place in the House of Lords. Unlike Baldwin, MacDonald turned this down. He pre-fers plain "Ramsey Mac," as neighbors have long called him.

More important, perhaps, for his decision, he prefers not to hamper his son's pub-lic career. Young Malcolm MacDonald, now secretary for the Dominions, would have to enter the House of Lords on his father's death, if the elder MacDonald ac-cepted an earldom. That may be a position of high honor, but it puts a com-plete stop to a political career.

The once radical labor leader is a much sadder fig-ure in his retirement than Prime Minister Baldwin, who leaves public office at the height of popularity and power. When MacDonald consented to be a part of a coalition National cabinet, he was regarded by Labor-ites and pacifists as a traitor to his ideals and betray-er of his lifelong followers. Even before Baldwin suc-ceeded him as Prime min-ister, MacDonald's position was mostly front, with others wielding the power.

Time may win back for him some of his reputation for greatness and fearles-sness. It is always difficult for contemporaries to judge fairly whether a leader has yielded to expediency for his own advantage or for his people's good.

SCATTERED BASQUES.

The shipload of nearly 3,000 Basque children, ref-ugees from the ruthless conflict in Spain, reached England safely after a se-vere storm in the Bay of Biscay. The youngsters, in spite of evidences of their tragic experiences at home, were like children every-where, excited about the boat and the adventure of going to live in a new land until the war is over in their own country.

Their first stop in Eng-land is a tent city in the lovely Hampshire country-side near Southampton. Doctors and nurses, moun-tains of bread, gallons of milk, tureens of stew, took care of their first wants. Later the children will be distributed to homes and institutions. If the first re-scue arrangements prove satisfactory, and the need continues, more children

PLANS COMPLETED FOR OPENING SOFT BALL SCHEDULE

EIGHT TEAMS WILL COMPOSE LEAGUE THIS SEASON; PLAY STARTS JUNE 10

Final plans for the city softball league were worked out at a meeting of team managers Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A., at which time a schedule for the 12-week season was adopted.

The schedule calls for eight teams, and as yet there are only seven in the fold, but as several additional teams have signified their desires to get in, league of-ficials hope to have the gap filled by noon Tuesday. Already on the dotted line are American Well, Bivlin Radio, Coca Cola, Dyer-Walkover, Collin Street Bakery, Oil City Iron Works and Dr. Pepper.

The first game is to be Thurs-day night, June 10, with Oil City Iron Works meeting Coca Cola. Each team will play each other team twice, and the season will close Tuesday, August 31. Games will be played each Monday, Tues-day, Thursday and Friday night, while Wednesday and Saturday nights will be assigned to each team, so they can schedule a game with an out-of-town, or out-of-league opponent. Postponed games may be made up on these dates by mutual consent of the teams involved.

It has been decided that one game of nine-innings duration will be played each regular league night. The first Wednesday night, June 9, has been assigned to American Well, whose opponents will be announced later.

The only new rule, adopted over last year's rules, is that all play-ers must be residents of Corsi-cana or employed in the city limits. With this rule gone the pro-viso that for the next 15 days teams may sign up out-of-town players, but after June 24 such players can not be issued con-tracts.

Championship of the loop will be determined at the end of the season on the percentage basis, and in case of ties, a playoff may be held.

A deadline, noon next Tuesday, has been set for the teams to pay their entrance fees, and to sub-mit their lists of eligible players, to Johnny Noble, league secretary.

Boys and girls told of the strangeness of hearing no warning sirens and no bombs or machine guns. The ship's captain told of the forty-five bombs that drop-ped near his ship while he waited at Bilbao for his hu-man cargo, adding that once the children started to board, the bombing stop-ped.

PRESIDENT DECLARES COURT REFORM BILL WILL BE APPROVED

ADMITS ROBINSON STATEMENTS CORRECT BUT CRITICIZES COURT DELAY

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(P)—President Roosevelt said today there was no question that the court reorganization bill would be passed this session. He made the statement at his press conference, at the time parrying questions about a compromise.

The President, however, when he said Senator Robinson, the democratic leader, had given a correct statement last night to newspapermen, indicated the administration might accept some compromise proposal.

(Robinson said certain amendments would be offered to the bill which came up on the floor and that he may offer one himself.) The President said the American people wanted court reform. He complained that while the supreme court was sitting in a recess, it had adjourned for the summer without deciding several important cases in which the administration was vitally interested.

He listed them as the TVA case which had been decided only partially before; the PWA cases involving the high school and the federal government to lend money to municipalities for power projects; and the securities commission case.

He did not mention the fourth case specifically, he said, since, however, the court had made no suggestion for remedying the situation which was the basis for proposing the government from prosecuting the Aluminum company anti-trust suit.

Wanted Early Decision. The President said both sides also had wanted an early decision in the Securities commission case. He noted the court had cleared its docket except for six other cases in which arguments had been completed, but that these were put over for rearrangement next fall.

Talking at length to the scores of newspapermen, the President said he had looked up the law on supreme court terms and found that it provided for the court to begin in October, but that the court itself could decide when to recess.

He commented to reporters that the people would be speedier decisions and large cases cleared up in six months instead of periods ranging up to three years and more.

After Senator Robinson said on the White House steps last night that amendments would be offered to the court reorganization measure, Sen. Burke, (D-Neb.) an opponent of the legislation, commented:

"We will be here until the end of time before such a bill will ever pass."

"There can be any compromise on the basis of adding a lesser number of justices to the supreme court for the purpose of influencing its decisions."

"It is a perfectly clear issue between those who are willing to add some members and maintain an independent court."

Robinson, who conferred with President Roosevelt for two hours last night, gave no hint of the nature of the proposed amendments to the controversial bill.

"The measure," he said, "will be preceded by an amendment expected that action will be taken on it during the present session."

"Aside from the provisions that relate to the supreme court, the features of the bill are to be regarded as of vital importance."

(The measure contains several provisions for speeding up lower federal courts. It would increase the supreme court to 15 unless justices over 70 retire.)

The senate leader, who has been boomed by his colleagues as Van DeVanter's successor, said he was not a candidate.

Except for Burke, few members of the opposition would comment until the specific modification proposal was disclosed.

Beard Goes To Chair Declaring His Innocence

HUNTSVILLE, June 4.—(P)—Augustus Dwight Beard went to his death in the electric chair today after a long and eventful life. He was convicted in North Carolina and in Texas.

The 27-year-old man who had been a collegiate football player and a star in the state penitentiary for fatally shooting John R. Roberts, former Dallas detective who resisted a garage hold-up.

A moment before he deliberately seated himself in the chair Beard told Warden W. W. Wald and other witnesses:

"I want to say that the crime I was convicted of in Dallas, and another man is guilty. He is in Arlington. The crime in North Carolina that I was accused of, another boy was guilty in that case. I am well prepared to die. My father, Finnigan, and the Catholic church."

Father Hugh Finnigan, chaplain from Houston, administered the last rites of the Catholic church to the condemned man yesterday.

Arlington is between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Once before Beard had been condemned to die. He was convicted and sentenced to death for slaying a Valdesse, N. C. grocer Augustus Bounos, in 1932. His sentence was commuted and shortly afterward he escaped.

A few minutes after Beard died, Warden Elinor Lookhart negro, was executed for fatally knifing his wife.

Body Reaches Dallas. The body of Augustus Dwight Beard, who died in the electric chair in state prison at Huntsville, arrived here today. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

FORMER CORSICANAN GIVES HIS IMPRESSIONS OF CORONATION OF KING GEORGE, QUEEN ELIZABETH

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Williams are in receipt of an interesting letter from their brother-in-law, Mr. R. Brown of Dallas, written on June 4, 1937, from London, England, where they attended the coronation.

The letter contained the following impressions on the coronation by Mr. Brown which were read with interest by his wife's host of Corsicana friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown both having resided in Corsicana many years prior to making their home in Dallas:

We first sensed something of the spirit of coronation when we stepped on board the "Queen Mary" in New York; it became more tangible when we landed in London on May 10 to find the great city very beautifully decorated and obviously putting business on its side to join in the Empire tribute to a man and woman called upon to fulfill the highest offices of an ancient constitution.

We allowed two days in which to plan our viewing of the pageantry—that time was more than adequate—thanks to the arrangements made for us by our friends in the Vacuum Oil Company in London. They had secured seats for us in what surely must have been the finest vantage point in the whole of London when we entered directly on to the main entrance to the beautiful annexe specially built for the coronation by the king and the queen, the Church of St. Peter to serve as a robing room.

As our seats were in an area from which all except official traffic was excluded, we were early on the morning of the 12th May, and we had been instructed to be in our places by 7 o'clock, we engaged an apartment car and drove to the Westminster Abbey in Queen Anne's Mansions.

On the morning of the coronation day we rose at 4 o'clock—British summer time being in operation that means we were really starting at 3 o'clock, Greenwich mean time—and took our seats a little before 7 o'clock. Our tickets included buffet breakfast and lunch so we were able to obtain refreshment during the day at our convenience.

When we took our places in the morning some of the people who were privileged to occupy seats in the Abbey had already arrived and were waiting for the coronation. One or two came via the River Thames and others by car. Broadcasting commenced at 10:15 and kept us busy as the whole world informed of everything that was happening along the route.

The procession actually started at 11:00 a.m. and the Lord Mayor of London—Sir George Broadbridge—in an immense gilt and painted coach drawn by two fine horses whose everyday work is to tow the floats of the London and Westminster dray—truly an emblem of democracy.

Carriage Procession. After which came the carriage procession of the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom, Dominion of Canada, Commonwealth of Australia, Dominion of New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, Southern Rhodesia and Northern Ireland; the representatives from India and Burma, the Sultans of Negri Sembilan, Pahang, Perak, Selangor, and the Sultan of Zanzibar and the Amir Abdullah of Transjordan. This procession was escorted by the Canadian Mounted Police, the Australian Mounted Police, the New Zealand Mounted Police, the Indian Mounted Police, the Indian Cavalry, the Household Cavalry, the King and Queen arrived in the royal gold coach. As I watched the procession, I felt that I was able to be present in England during the coronation. I had seen the king and queen in the past, but in such a democratic age Great Britain has remained so solidly loyal to the monarchy. My experiences during the last few days have made me feel nearer to an understanding of the reason. It appears to me that the throne, through the personality of the occupant, is a symbol of the British nation, the spirit of democracy. Profound belief in the ideal that spirit represents and continual striving in its defense are the basis of the Commonwealth of Nations by a process of evolution than by revolution.

NINE PERSONS ARE BURNED TO DEATH IN CALIFORNIA BUS

BIG VEHICLE TURNED OVER AND BURST INTO FLAMES EARLY FRIDAY

REDDING, Calif., June 4.—(P)—Trapped in flaming wreckage, nine persons were burned to death when a Greyhound bus overturned and burst into flames early today. The cause of the accident was not known.

The accident occurred near Shiloh Springs, 48 miles north of here. The bus was enroute from Sacramento to Portland, Ore. The driver, Mortimer A. Wilson, 37, of Sacramento, and eight unharmed passengers were trapped in the wreckage.

The blaze, lighting up the sky, attracted members of a nearby CCC camp. The men rushed to the spot and hauled water on the flames, but the heat was so intense they were unable to rescue the screaming victims.

Policeman F. L. Speck of Los Angeles, on a vacation, said he arrived at the scene at 4:15 a.m. shortly after the accident. He said other spectators told him the bus was traveling along a straight stretch of highway, suddenly swerved and ran up a bank.

Then, Speck said he was told, the big machine toppled back onto the center of the road and caught fire.

Speck said he and other spectators were unable to reach the victims, who could be seen amidst the flames.

There was no apparent reason for the crash, Speck said, unless the driver had been stricken with a heart ailment or had fallen asleep.

Coroner Roy S. Duggins ordered two ambulances to bring the bodies here.

Two Greyhound officials, A. B. Frey, secretary, and Earl Hensley, claims agent, and R. M. Ahern, superintendent of maintenance of San Francisco, started an investigation.

REDDING, Calif., June 4.—(P)—Nine passengers were burned to death when a Greyhound stagecoach overturned early today at Shiloh Springs, 48 miles north of here.

Flames burst from the big machine when it toppled over and trapped the victims in the wreckage.

The fire attracted enrollees from nearby CCC Camp Symes and they rushed to the scene and poured water on the flames.

Coroner Roy S. Duggins telephoned here that he had found nine bodies and believed all persons aboard the machine had perished.

At Wilson of Redding, the driver, was among the victims. The passengers included men and women, but none of the names were known as the bus company said it did not take their names.

At Chico, E. L. Speck of the Los Angeles police department, said he had witnessed the wreck. He said the bus, traveling on a straightaway road, suddenly ran up on a bank and then turned over in the middle of the highway.

The bus was en route to Portland, Ore. It was due at its stop, Shiloh Springs at 4 a.m.

A slow steady rain early Friday morning over Navarro county furnished ample moisture for corn, cotton, row and other crops.

At 7 o'clock was 34 of an inch, which added to the 60 of an inch Thursday morning made a total of 1.14 inches for the two days.

Keene reported one inch of rain Friday morning, giving that section a total of 1.33 inches for the two days. Dawson had .70 of an inch rain Friday morning, giving that section a total of 1.08 inches for the same period.

Other sections reporting a good rain were Rice, Embouse, Barry, Blooming Grove, Frost, Pardon, Richland, Eureka, Roane, Powell, and Corbett. Rain was still falling at each of these places early Friday morning when a check of the county weather bureau was made.

Reports indicate that well over an inch of rain has fallen in all sections of the county and that it fell so slowly that practically all the moisture was absorbed by the earth.

Corn Benefitted. Corn will be kept growing for some time now and in some sections the rain practically assured a fair crop. Where corn is late another rain the latter part of June or early in July might be needed to make the crop.

Row crops that have been planted recently will be brought up and there is now plenty of moisture to complete the planing of this type of crop.

Cotton that is up will have sufficient moisture to keep it growing for a long time and into the fall.

Land will be in fine shape for further cultivation following the rain and within a short time the farmers will be well up with their work.

Oat threshing has been halted temporarily but only a minimum of damage was done to the oats which were all harvested.

week amounted to only $625, bringing the total for the year up to $28,250.

The permits for the week included: Elliott Johnson 123 Elmwood, repairs on house, $500; J. L. Cox 214 South Fourteenth street, repairs, $125.

Traffic Hazards Be Reduced By Warning Signals

Several traffic hazards on Highway 75 near the intersection with East First avenue will be minimized in the near future through the cooperation of the state highway department when additional warning signals will be erected.

The intersection has been the scene of several accidents in the past, and partially "blind" approaches and when the conditions were pointed out to E. A. Buckle representative of the division engineer's office, and Sam Thompson, local engineer, the former man Thursday afternoon by City Engineer W. V. Mowiam and a representative of the Corsicana Daily Sun, they readily agreed to erect additional warning signals at this intersection.

An illuminated warning signal will be installed on the west side of Highway 75, near the intersection, and nearer the intersection a "Cross Street" warning will be erected, warning north-south traffic of possible hazards. On East First avenue, the intersection of Highway 75, the warning signs will be placed to caution drivers of vehicles bound east or west.

The intersection of the street and highway has been greatly improved recently under the direction of Mr. Thomas by the laying of an asphalt strip between the concrete pavement and the street ends.

SHORTAGE LAYING HENS IN PROSPECT FALL AND WINTER

COLLEGE STATION, June 4.—(Sp.)—A heavy shortage of laying hens with a corresponding increase in egg and poultry prices, is in prospect for the fall of 1937 and the early part of 1938, according to George P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the Texas A. and M. Extension service.

McCarthy said that high feed costs and low prices for poultry products, and the fact that the best culling program in recent years has also resulted in a decline in the purchase of baby chicks, McCarthy pointed out that commercial hatcheries have reduced a 35 percent decline in the sale of baby chicks.

With better egg prices in prospect, McCarthy urged that poultrymen give their hens every chance to come into early production and to maintain production. "Poultrymen who feed their pullets properly during the summer and give them every opportunity to develop will be well prepared for the fall and winter," he said.

Not much chance exists of any unforeseen increase in the number of laying hens before fall 1938, according to McCarthy, June 4. July chicks have never proved profitable, and commercial hatcheries have suspended operations for the summer.

JEWISH CITIZEN OF UNITED STATES PAYS EXTREME PENALTY

By LOUIS LOCHNER

BEIRUT, June 4.—(P)—Hirsh Hirsch, 21-year-old Jewish citizen of the United States who had never been in America, was executed by a mechanical guillotine today for an alleged "treasonable plot" under the explosives law.

It was learned on good authority that the charges, hitherto presumed to have been based on an alleged plot to assassinate Hitler, were connected with accusations that Hirsch wanted to assassinate Julius Streicher, high Hitler aide and the reich's leading anti-Jew propagandist.

Clemency apparently was refused by Der Fuehrer—the only one able to give it—because authorities believed Hirsch acted for Otto Strasser, Hitler's bitter enemy, who now in exile in Prague, Czechoslovakia, the youth's house.

Execution occurred in Plotzensee prison despite four clemency appeals by Hirsch's father, Ambassador William E. Dodd.

Hirsch went to his death by the guillotine with a 20-year-old German, Oscar Denner, condemned to hang on a charge of high treason.

This grim mechanism was substituted only recently for the traditional axe.

Hirsch, an achieved American citizenship through his grandfather, merely asked for a cup of coffee and permission to write four letters before he was put to death. One of the letters was to his parents in France.

A Jewish rabbi had stayed with Hirsch throughout the night.

Grounds For Clemency. American diplomatic and consular officials in pleading vainly for Hirsch's life, urged clemency on these grounds:

1. That he was a citizen of the United States, where the death penalty was not intended to do, but did not do.

2. He was very young and probably influenced by older people.

3. He was a Jew.

HOUSE COMPLETES ACTION ON REPEAL OF RACE BETTING

ONLY SIGNATURE OF GOVERNOR ALLRED NEEDED TO OUTLAW WAGERING

AUSTIN, June 4.—(P)—The death knell for pari-mutuel wagering on horse racing in Texas tolled today as the house of representatives finally passed, 94 to 13, a bill previously approved by the senate repealing the law, enacted in 1933, that made the practice legal.

Only the signature of Governor James V. Allred was needed to complete legislative action, and the governor, driving toward victory in a long fight for repeal, had called the legislature into extraordinary session for the sole purpose of killing the law.

FLOOD CONDITIONS PREVAILED IN SOME SECTIONS TEXAS

EIGHT-INCH RAIN WASHES OUT RAILWAY LINE NEAR STRATFORD

By The Associated Press.

Texas east valley plains at the skirts today as flood conditions prevailed in some sections and few areas escaped heavy rains and other offerings of the elements that brought varying results.

Stratford, Sherman county, was the latest section to be hit by rain falling in a few hours. Six feet of Santa Fe Railroad line were washed out south of Stratford but was not expected to disrupt the service as repairs could be made before the next train.

The cloudburst area drains into the North Canadian river, therefore danger of the South Canadian approach of the Santa Fe main line bridge going out was not renewed. The stream, on a record rise at Logan, N. M., was reported falling downstream.

Much damage resulted from a wind storm that swept an area from Redwater in Bowie county to northeastern Miller county, Arkansas. Many farm dwellings were damaged. Rain accompanied the wind storm in the San Angelo-Abiene area with traffic greatly impaired.

Downpours were reported in Coleman county, Waco, Miles, Temple, Dallas, Fort Worth, Corsicana, Llano, Beaumont, Port Arthur and a number of Panhandle points.

A number of sections reported beneficial results from the rain.

Amelia Earhart On Trans-Ocean Flight Monday

NATAL, Brazil, June 7.—(P)—Amelia Earhart headed over the South Atlantic in a light rain today for Dakar, Senegal, her first on the African continent in her intended flight around the world.

She left here on the 1,900-mile flight at 1:15 a. m. Eastern Standard Time and was expected to reach four hours later that "everything is going fine."

The plane made a perfect take-off at Panamarambo airport while officials of the field, operated by the French trans-Atlantic flying company, Air France, looked on.

With the American flyer was her navigator, Captain Fred Noonan.

Miss Earhart, who arrived here yesterday morning from Fortaleza, Brazil, rose at her hotel a little after midnight and was at the field at 1 a. m.

She laughed and shrugged her shoulders when a newspaper photographer's oil-fashions flash lighted her in the small crowd as the motor started and the plane roared into the air.

LEGISLATURE

while the like committee in the house set a hearing for tomorrow.

The house crushed a motion proposing adjournment of the session next Friday. The vote was 97 to 22.

Gov. James V. Allred's signature of the bill terminating horse racing under the certificate system of betting was delayed until tomorrow because Speaker Robert W. Calvert did not have an opportunity to sign it before house adjournment.

Governor Opens Up Matter.

The governor opened up the entire subject of gambling in the message which he had promised to send in immediately after a horse race report bill was passed.

He said dog track betting was "just as much to be condemned as that of horse races" and the statement that most wagering on horse races was through "bookie shops" probably was true.

Regarding the law against slot and marble machines, Allred urged that some means be devised to make local officers enforce them. He recommended that the legislature authorize the attorney general to file injunction suits here against gambling houses when local officers failed to discharge their duties.

With reference to the anti-bookmaking law, Allred suggested that it contain a provision "substantially to the effect that where it is shown by the state that information concerning bets or wagers, or odds offered or paid on any horse race or dog race, is transmitted by telegram, telephone or telegraph over any lines or facilities of such concern, it shall be prima facie evidence of knowledge on the part of such corporation, its officers, agents or employees of the unlawful nature of such transactions."

The senate accepted an invitation to attend the Dallas Exposition next Saturday.

New Assignments Face Legislature

AUSTIN, June 7.—(P)—The legislature faced new assignments today from Gov. James V. Allred, having complied with his repeated urgings to outlaw certificate wagering on horse racing.

When the law-makers were wrestling last week over the issue of race track betting, the governor said, that matter concluded, he would submit the additional subjects of legislating against bookmaking and wagering on dog racing.

He also said he would send up the matters of enacting against "other forms of gambling" and disposing of jacks and slot machines, which the state acquired and maintained from proceeds of taxes on horse race betting.

Some thought that because of the apparent overwhelming agreement that bookies and dog racing definitely should be put out of business, the legislature might reach sine die adjournment this week. Others said the matter of tightening bookie laws was a stiffer problem than it appeared.

Wants Inquiry Reconsidered.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—Senator Borah (R-Ia.) moved today to reconsider the senate vote approving the administration inquiry into tax evasions. He said, however, he would not press the resolution.

Borah told newsmen he felt the resolution as passed by the senate was too broad in its delegation of power for an investigation to be made by the treasury and also with respect to publicity of income tax returns.

Roosevelt Sends Message.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—President Roosevelt transmitted to congress today a Tennessee Valley Authority report suggesting establishment of a "uniform principle of making interterritorial freight rates" as an aid to commercial development of that valley and the nation as a whole.

The survey was conducted by the TVA under an executive order. The President forwarded to congress a letter by Chairman Arthur E. Morgan of TVA briefly summarizing the report.

Morgan said the survey showed the present regional freight rate structures, or boundaries, "constitute barriers against the free flow of commerce which are hampering and restricting the normal development of the nation as a whole by preventing a full utilization of the varied natural resources that exist in the different regions of the country."

The President made no comment on the report but invited attention to Morgan's suggestion that it be published as an official document.

SENATE OPPONENTS ROOSEVELT COURT BILL PLAN REPORT

SCORN COMPROMISE AND HOLD BILL THREAT TO DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—Senate opponents of the Roosevelt court bill, still scorning compromise, virtually completed today a report denouncing it as a threat to democratic government.

A last conference by the judiciary committee majority remained before submission of the report to the senate.

That document, representing the views of 10 of the 18 committee members, was expected by some to take direct and emphatic exception to arguments by the President for the legislation.

It probably will deny any need for "infusion of new blood in the courts" it was said, and cite the record of the supreme court docket in reply to assertions that the addition of justices would expedite cases.

Administration leaders intimidated senate consideration might begin next week, following disposition of the relief bill.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Oak Valley 4-H Clubs.

The Oak Valley 4-H Club met June 3 with Miss Ruth McNabb. The meeting was called to order by the president, Vernon Hodge. The roll call was read by Doris Biddy. We had the opening exercise and then the meeting was turned over to Miss Ruth McNabb.

Miss Ruth McNabb showed us how to refinish some old furniture. First with sand paper, rub the wood with the grain so it would be smooth then paint. Another was to put paint or varnish remover on the table and let it set a while then take a knife and then you could remove the paint or varnish. Miss Ruth said, "Be sure to put gasoline on the furniture if you use the paint or varnish remover, because it would eat up the wood. Then the furniture is ready to paint."

Five members were present as follows: Mary Alice Duval, Barbara Sue Harper, Mattie Lee Hutchins, Vernon Hodge and Doris Biddy.

All the others were absent. Then we adjourned.

Barry Club.

Rural electrification was the topic discussed at the meeting of Barry Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. H. L. Reed Wednesday afternoon, June 2.

Each member answered the roll call with a piece of useful information concerning some kind of electrical equipment.

Different kinds of wiring were described and reasons given for the use of different arrangements.

Plans were made for the cooking school which the club is sponsoring. The school is to be held at the Barry high school building June 16th.

The achievement tours for yard demonstrators was discussed and plans made for the members to make the tour.

There were fifteen members and one visitor present.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

SENATE COMMITTEE APPROVES NEW BAN ON CHILD LABOR

NEW AMENDMENT PROPOSED BY VANDENBERG TO MEET OBJECTIONS

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—A senate judiciary subcommittee approved today the proposed Vandenberg constitutional amendment to prohibit child labor.

The amendment, offered by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) to meet major objections raised against the child labor amendment now before the states, would permit congress to limit, or prohibit, employment of persons under 16 years of age.

The pending amendment would cover children up to 18 years of age.

Vandenberg also eliminated from the wording of his proposal the word "regulate" which critics of the pending amendment contended would permit the federal government to regiment all children under 18 years of age.

A third major change, designed by Vandenberg to eliminate fears that congress would be able to regulate labor my members of farm families would restrict the jurisdiction of the amendment to persons employed "for hire."

Instead of requiring ratification by state legislatures, which so far, have failed to approve the pending amendment in sufficient number to make it operative, Vandenberg's amendment would be submitted to constitutional conventions in the various states.

Would Require Enforcement.

Allred advised the legislature to take action intended to require local officers to enforce the anti-gambling laws.

"Among other things," he said, "I recommend that authority be given for the filling of injunction suits against gambling houses and condemnation suits for gambling paraphernalia in the district court of Travis county (Austin) where it is alleged by the attorney general that the local officers in any given county have failed or refused to discharge their duties."

The governor announced he probably would sign later today the bill outlawing betting at horse race tracks, effective 90 days after adjournment of the session. He said he would invite 17 of the 31

DeLois Thursday, 20, and Hicks McKinney, 45, were stabbed to death at Dallas.

A. J. Parker, 51, mayor of Roscoe, died Sunday from bullet wounds sustained Friday.

Nine-year-old Truman Partridge of near Sherman died today of injuries received yesterday when a baseball bat, which slipped from the hands of a player, struck the boy on the head.

Murder and Suicide.

PARIS, June 7.—(P)—Mrs. Eva Lois Ellis, 18, was shot to death by her estranged young husband who then killed himself by drinking poison, Justice of the Peace W. T. Woody ruled today.

The tragedy took place at State Shoals, a remote Lamar county community, Saturday night.

Mrs. Ellis was shot five times. Her husband drank poison, then surrendered to Deputy Constable Frank Parks.

Boy Killed By Blow.

SHERMAN, June 7.—(P)—An accidental blow from a baseball bat yesterday proved fatal today to nine-year-old Truman D. Partridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Partridge of the Ely community.

He died in a hospital here.

The bat, which slipped from the hands of a player at a game between the Ely and Ambrose teams yesterday, struck the boy, a spectator, behind an ear.

Condition Is Critical.

DENTON, June 7.—(P)—Mrs. Ben Syler of Muenster remained in a critical condition in a hospital here today from injuries suffered in an automobile-truck collision June 2.

She and her husband were both hurt in the crash. Syler is recovering satisfactorily.

A second blood transfusion was administered Mrs. Syler yesterday.

Brakeman Dies of Fall.

DEL RIO, June 7.—(P)—The body of Louis C. Taylor, 28, brakeman killed in a fall as Castle Canyon yesterday, was taken to Del Rio today.

Southern Pacific railroad representatives were investigating the death of Taylor, which authorities here were advised, occurred in a fall over the railroad bridge over the canyon, 14 miles from Del Rio.

Senators to stand with him for a picture of the signing. The invitation would not include Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo, who voted for final passage but later moved to reconsider.

LEWIS

"That would destroy all our efforts at collective bargaining," he asserted.

The burly, square-jawed labor leader told joint congressional committee that a nation-wide minimum standard of wages and hours was necessary to increase purchasing power and spread employment, but quickly added:

"We should adhere to a minimum wage as a fundamental right of employees, and not confuse or impede progress by experiments in wage-fixing as such."

He said the part of the measure to which he objected would authorize a labor standards board to establish "a fair wage" commensurate with "the value of the service or class of service rendered" in industries where collective bargaining is ineffective.

"It may be that the intent is the laudable one, based on British and Canadian experience, to require all workers in an occupation or industry to conform to the wage standards established by a substantial majority of the workers in an industry," Lewis testified.

"But he this as it may, such a procedure to say the least is very confusing and extremely difficult of application."

"Moreover, what is of fundamental importance is that it is not in accord with American practice to a wage-fixing by a government agency or practice, for it amounts to a wage-fixing by a government agency, x x x"

He urged congress to "hold to American tradition and precedent" by establishing the "fundamental principle x x x that every worker should be protected by a minimum wage determined without reference to collective bargaining conditions in the industry."

Forty Cents Per Hour.

Lewis suggested minimum pay should be 40 cents an hour, for a 35-hour week, or $14 a week.

He noted that the annual wage under these standards would be about $700, which he described as a material benefit to thousands possibly even millions of American workers, but warned:

"It would be a calamity if such a wage minimum as that referred to should be in any way construed as a living wage."

The one-time miner suggested undesirable rigidity in labor standards could be avoided by giving the board power to expand the work-week to 40 hours or reduce it to 30 hours, whenever such changes may seem justified.

He firmly opposed the establishment of lower pay for women than for men, or any wage differential based on geography.

Arguments for different pay scales in different section of the country usually are "no more than a plea for the continuance of low living standards in the Southern states."

Conceding that living standards are lower in the south, he argued this is so because wage scales on the whole are lower in the south, x x x and the southern worker gets fewer of the good things of life."

"His food may cost him less, but that is because he gets less milk, less fresh vegetables and fruits, and less fresh meats. His housing may cost less, but that is because he gets an inferior type of housing," he said.
